

2022 IN REVIEW

Celebrating GCSRW's 50th anniversary

Recognizing our foremothers

The Rev. Emily Nelms Chastain authored a series of blogs recognizing the leadership of women who paved the way for GCSRW during Women's History Month

Launched e-newsletter

A monthly e-newsletter produced by GCSRW to highlight content that focuses on our four areas of work and provides key resources throughout the year.

Preventing sexual misconduct

GCSRW conducted 10 presentations regarding the prevention and response to sexual misconduct across the methodist connexion in addition to hours of phone consultations with leadership and victims navigating the complaint process.

Monitoring gatherings

Monitoring is observing with intentionality and reporting back the observations to assist the Church in being self-aware of their conduct towards one another. GCSRW provided training and materials for local leadership to monitor gatherings such as Annual, jurisdictional and central conferences.

Launched Welcoming a Woman Pastor

GCSRW launched a self-paced, online resource to guide local churches through the onboarding, orientation and set-up process when introducing a female pastor appointed to serve their congregation.

Celebrating our ministry with tree planting

In celebration of our 50th anniversary, AC COSROW's planted trees across the connexion to symbolize the fruit of progress as we maintain and remember the roots of our ministry.

Celebrating new women bishops

8 newly elected bishops in 2022 were women. The Rev. Ruby-Nell M. Estrella became the first female bishop in the Philippines Central Conference.

Updating our Women by the Numbers data

This year, we began tracking the percentage of the UMC's episcopal leadership by gender through the visual representation of charts.
